DIARY NOTES

25X1A

DD/S

13 March 1962

1. At the Deputies' Meeting this morning:

a. I discussed the proposal of the Office of Security for the control of Liaison Officers accredited to the DD/I. With some reluctance the Director approved of the proposal outlined in [REDACTED] memorandum of 26 February 1962. However, out of this developed considerable discussion about the desirability of screening off the Clandestine Services area in the building so as to make it inaccessible to employees generally. The Director said that he was inclined to think that we should do this and directed that I require the Office of Security to make an immediate study as to how it could best be done. (I have talked to Shef Edwards about this, and he has initiated the study.)

b. The Director announced that he thought there were entirely too many clearances for "TALENT" and "KEYHOLE" in the Government. He proposed to reduce the total number substantially and directed that each of us check to make sure that all clearances for CIA people were essential.

2. I talked to Ed Saunders about the Director's decision to appoint [REDACTED] the Comptroller. (See Memo for the Record dtd 16 Mar 62; subj: "Relief of Edward R. Saunders from his Responsibilities as Comptroller.")

3. I talked to [REDACTED] office about our proposal for reorganization of the Reserve Officers' Group here in the Agency. [REDACTED] undertook to find out formally where I should go in the Department of Defense to obtain official approval. (On 14 March 1962 [REDACTED] advised me that [REDACTED] on behalf of General [REDACTED] had contacted Colonel Smith (Extension 75839, Room No. 3C-972 in the office of the Assistant Secretary for Manpower, Mr. Carlisle P. Runge) and that Colonel Smith was the proper point of contact.)
